

Dr. Amrita Bajaj is an Associate Professor at Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, University of Delhi. She has served as Deputy Dean at Dean Students Welfare, University of Delhi managing the admissions, placements and women issues. She is also the Secretary for the Association of Geographical Studies. She is currently also the coordinator of International Coordination and Development Programme at Shaheed Bhagat Singh. She has published articles in both national and international journals. She is supervising M.phil and P.hD candidates. She is a regular counsellor at All India Radio for subject and career counselling. She is also widely covered in different newspaper and channels on numerous academic and Women issues. She has represented University of Delhi at a consortium in King's College, London along with representatives from Germany and Mexico. She is also a regular invited guest in different Colleges, Universities, FDP Programmes and HRDC's. She has also published a book and two of her springer publications are almost on verge of completion. She is author of one of the most prestigious publication by Ministry of Science and Technology titled Vigyan Vidushi: A special publication on Women Scientists of India released recently by Dr. Jitender Singh Ji, Minister, Science and Technology under aegis of Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav. She has done ICSSR funding Project on Sustainability of Tribes in Patalkot Valley. She has also conducted studies on field based projects on water quality, floods and cyclones. She also develops e-content for IGNOU courses. Dr. Amrita has served in different committees at the University like Cultural Committee, B.VOC admission Committee, Hostels sub-committee, Grievance committee, inspection committee, anti-ragging and anti-hooliganism committee, Scholarship and Financial Aid committee. She was the University Coordinator for the Extra Curricular Admissions at University of Delhi for 4 years. She handled the placements at the University being the placement Coordinator for the University. Dr. Amrita had organized many highly successful and much appreciated International Conference on Livable Cities: Transforming Sustainability and its Challenges and Sustainable Development Goals: Science to Policy Framework. Later she also organized a National Conference on "Historical Geographies of Location and Cultural Evolution in India" and Innovations in Research and Technology: A Collaborative Conceptualisation. She has delivered lectures and E-content as resource person under ARPIT 2019 Programme launched by Ministry of Human Resource and Development, Government of India launched through SWAYAM Portal on Resource Challenges to Indian Economy. She has also delivered her lecture in the orientation courses being organized by CPDHE, University of Delhi and at many other places working under the aegis of PMMMMTT, Ministry of Education. Dr. Amrita has Chaired, Co-chaired in many National and International Conferences. She is currently part of the Thematic Committee of the University for celebrating 100 years of University of Delhi. She is also development of University of Ladakh as external expert of NEP syllabus formulation. She has been awarded the R.S.Mann Memorial Best Paper Award for her Paper on “Contours of Urban Spaces: A case study of Delhi”. She has been recently awarded with the Distinguished Teachers Award for her academic and teaching pursuits. She has also been awarded with Excellence in Teaching Award by YMCA in Association with Dainik Jagran for her larger contribution in field of education for society at large. She has recently been felicitated with Distinguished Teacher’s Award by Deccan Geographical Society of India at Benaras.