

Dr. Kavita Arora is presently working as a Professor at the Department of Geography, Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, University of Delhi, India. She has more than 15 years of teaching and research experience. She earned her Ph.D. in Political Geography from Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. She has published her research in many national and international journals. Her areas of interest are political Geography, Regional Planning, Development and Environmental discourse, Disaster Management, and Indigenous People.

She is awarded a post-doctoral fellowship from the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi. She has also developed content and recorded various modules for E-PG Pathshala and Massive Open Online Courses (MOOC) under the Ministry of Human Resource Development. She has authored and translated various modules for Geography, Economics, and Sociology for Indira Gandhi National Open University, New Delhi.

She authored a book Indigenous Forest Management in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, India, Springer and co-authored a book Urban Green Space, Health Economics and Air Pollution in Delhi, Routledge India.