

Dr. Vishwa Raj Sharma is Professor at the Department of Geography, Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, University of Delhi, with more than 20 years of teaching and research experience. He received Ph.D. from the Department of Geography, Delhi School of Economics, University of Delhi. His field of specialization is environmental issues, urban planning and disaster management. His recent book “Making India Disaster Resilient: Challenges and Future Perspectives” published from Springer, Switzerland in 2023. He participated and presented research papers in many conferences in India and abroad, such as International Geographical Union (IGU) conferences held at Kyoto, Japan (2013), Krakow, Poland (2014), IGU Moscow, Russia (2015) and IGU Congress in Beijing, China (2016), IGU, Paris, France (2022) and ICSSR-JSPS joint academic program in March 2023 in Japan as a lead collaborator.

Recently, he completed a major research project entitled “Appraisal of Urban Growth Dynamics and Pollution using GIS Techniques along River Yamuna”, sponsored by Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) under IMPRESS Scheme. He has also worked as a co-investigator of the international research project ‘Emerging Mega Regions and Socio-Economic Developments in Contemporary India: A Study of Delhi Mega Region, sponsored by Hiroshima University, Japan’. He worked as Principal Investigator of two Innovation Research Projects ‘Monitoring and Modeling Socio-Economic Impact of Land Use/Cover and Pollution along River Yamuna in Delhi’ (2013-2014) and ‘Earthquake Disaster Vulnerability Assessment and Management in Delhi’ sponsored by University of Delhi (2015-2016).

Presently he is the Academic Council Member of Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar University, Agra. He is a life member of several Academic and Professional bodies like NAGI, National Association of Geographers India, AGS, Association for Geographical Studies, Executive Member of Association for Geographical Studies, He acted as a Member of Advisory Board, Siddhant Raj Degree College affiliated to Dr. B R Ambedkar University, Agra and Member of Advisory Board, Centre for Disaster Management studies (CDMS) in Shaheed Bhagat Singh College.