

Ira Gaur is an Associate Professor of English at University of Delhi. She has a Bachelor degree in English from Miranda House (DU), Masters in English from St Stephen's College (DU) and an MPhil English from Delhi University. She has taught undergraduate students papers on Victorian Literature, Popular Fiction and Modern European Drama. Her research interests include gender and women's studies, media and communication, literature of the anthropocene.