

Ms. Mohini Awasthi was born and raised in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh, where she completed her schooling. She graduated and earned her post-graduate degree from the University of Lucknow. She cleared her NET examination in English in 2022. Currently, she is pursuing a Ph.D. in English from IGNOU, focusing on comparing the plays of Manjula Padmanabhan with the Theatre of the Absurd. Mohini believes that the techniques of Absurdist theatre, if combined with the devices of contemporary theatre, can be skillfully applied to create profound social impact. She also teaches Indian Writing in English, British Literature, Dystopian Literature, Philosophy of Existentialism and the literature pertaining to it. Her passion for teaching grows stronger each year. In her classes, she not only imparts academic knowledge but also instils moral values in her students, often with a touch of humour and laughter.